MR. HAWLEY AND THE HARBOR

At a reception tendered some distinguished people by the business men of Grants Pass Wednesday night Congressman W. C. Hawley was one of the welcome guests. He was given a place upon the program of addresses following that of Mr. Cutler, general manager of the Utah Idaho Sugar company. Mr. Hawley's talk was filled with good will toward the community that has always numbered him as its loyal and ever-ready friend. Among other things, he complimented the city upon the action inaugurated and put through to success for the building of a railroad. He expressed the belief that the efforts of this city, and of Crescent City at the other end of the line, would surely mean the wedding of the coast with the interior with twin bands of steel in the very near future. In the course of his remarks upon this subject, the congressman spoke with favor of the Crescent City harbor project, which is an essential in the success of the railroad, and said that he had no doubt the efforts of Congressman Kent would bring the desired results. There was no word of partisanship in the address of the learned law-maker.

It is understood, however, that lights of democracy, whose partisanship has temporarily blinded their usual better judgment, have attempted to make political capital at the expense of their community out of this expressed friendship. They want other communities to vote for Weatherford because "Hawley would favor the improvement of a harbor over the line in California." Yet if Hawley would not aid Mr. Kent and the California delegation in a matter that is just as vital to the development of southern Oregon as it is to the development of northern California, he would not merit the support of the people of this district.

Every resident of Grants Pass and of all southern Oregon should applaud the stand taken by Mr. Hawley. Should opposition come to him because of his friendship for this community, and through the efforts of citizens here, he would find just reason for resentment. On the other hand, if this is the kind of a platform the democrats wish to stand upon, then Weatherford can be looked upon as an avowed enemy of the improvement at Crescent City and, therefore, a stumbling block in the building of the Grants Pass-Crescent City railroad. Harbor improvement and railroad are practically synonymous terms.

Weatherford has about as much chance of beating Hawley as the much-maligned snowball has of holding its size in the place before which Evangelist Mathis is posting danger signals.

A MEXICAN COMPLICATION. It is said that there are regularly filed in our state department on the part of European nations interested in Mexico claims for all losses suffered by their nationals in that country as the result of the anarchy which prevails, say the Chronicle. They are said to run into hundreds of millions of dollars.

They could only be filed with our government as a preliminary to some demand upon this country. It would probably be said, if the representatives of the European governments would say anything, that they are filed as evidence of what will be demanded of Mexico when the proper time comes.

But it is beginning to be said in responsible quarters that this country will be held to something more than the granting of its friendly offices, and that, in fact, we are to be held as absolute guarantors of these debts.

While the validity or propriety of our Monroe doctrine has never been even indirectly recognized except by Great Britain, we insist on both validity and propriety.

And, in respect to that, some governments are known to hold that, assuming the validity of the Monroe doctrine, it carries corresponding responsibility to other nations having interests in the countries covered by it which we are not to be permitted to evade.

And, in particular, some governments will insist that Wilson, by his interference in Mexico, and destroying the only Mexican government which had any semblance of strength, made the United States directly responsible for the payment for all injuries committed on foreigners in Mexico.

That such a claim will be made there is no reason whatever to doubt. What will come of it can only be guessed. But it is possible that in default of payment by us there will be direct dealings with Mexico in defense of the Monroe doctrine.

Wilson's blundering has got us into a very bad mess.

BOMBARDMENT IN THE VAUX SECTOR AT VERDUN

Paris, Oct. 26.—Artillery bombardment continued throughout last night on the Vaux sector northeast of Verdun, but the Germans made no new counter attacks, it was officially announced today.
